

Game for adults

I don't play video games as those feel too childish, so I would expect a "warning, drink responsibly" notice somewhere in the app. Also this is for fun, not to act crazy.

Multiplayer

I wouldn't play this game by myself and want to keep track of the player names

Rules Reminders

I'm probably going to forget how to play and want to access the rules at any moment during the game

Taking Turns

I don't want to just pass the phone and click a button. But I want the feeling of my turn, then your turn. There should be confirmation that I'm done, and you pass the phone.

No custom challenges

I'm not very imaginative. Therefore I just want to download the game and get on with it. I'm not going to sit down and think of stuff that other people have to do. Too much effort.
